Others prefer an adventure holiday, where they can climb mountains or go rafting in wild rivers. Many nature lovers choose ecotourism, staying in forests to learn about wildlife. When planning, some people use a travel agency to book their trip, while others arrange car hire to drive to their destination. Finding the right accommodation, like a hotel or a campsite, is also important. During the holiday, some people sunbathe on the beach to relax, while others go on a sightseeing tour to visit famous landmarks. Many tourists love to go sightseeing in cities like Paris, buy souvenirs to remember their trip, or simply admire the view from a mountain top.
